3. Plea Bargains: The prosecutor's punishment recommendation is not binding on the Court. If a plea bargain agreement exists, and the Court rejects that agreement, you will be permitted to withdraw your plea if you desire.

4. Negotiated Plea & Appeal: If the punishment assessed does not exceed the punishment recommended by the prosecutor and agreed to by you and your attorney, you must receive the Court's permission before you may appeal any matter except matters raised by written motion(s) filed prior to trial.

THE STATE OF TEXAS) IN THE 390TH JUDICIAL vs.) DISTRICT COURT OF THEODORE COZINE) TRAVIS COUNTY, TEXAS

DEFENDANT’S RESPONSE TO PSI

FACTS

The PSI’s narrative correctly summarizes the offense except for the fact that both parties drank much more alcohol than Ms. reported. Moreover, mutual verbal and physical abuse fueled by whiskey shots and beer punctuated the entire evening, contrary to the impression left that the assault occurred “out of the blue”.

Mr. Cozine was horrified and sickened by his own behavior. According to the probable cause affidavit, immediately after the assault, “Cozine looked shocked and said ‘what have I done?’”. The police officers entering Ms. ’s residence found Mr. Cozine hiding under a blanket in the bedroom closet. (See, State’s Motion to Increase Bond). Months after the assault his conduct still haunted him as he expressed in his letter of apology to Ms. . (See, Mr. Cozine’s letter of apology to Ms. , Exhibit “A”). Fortunately, Mr. Cozine’s horror over his actions have translated into some significant steps toward his rehabilitation.

Mr. Cozine’s ex-wife, a prosecution witness through stipulated evidence, believes that since January 2008, Mr. Cozine has decided to take responsibility for his own actions and has changed his behavior. He is currently making full and regular child support payments and has a steady job with the Apple Computer Company. (See, “Thank You” letter from Washington Child Support Office, Exhibit "B"). Alcoholic's Anonymous has become an integral part of Mr. Cozine's life. He has a sponsor- , who shares the view that Mr. Cozine places his sobriety among his highest priorities. (Exhibit "C"). In addition to the 4-5 AA meetings he attends weekly, Mr. Cozine chairs an AA meeting on Saturdays.

Mr. Cozine has completed an 18 session outpatient treatment program through Austin Drug & Alcohol Abuse Program, Inc. and attends a weekly aftercare session. (Exhibit "D"). On a bi-monthly basis Mr. Cozine meets with a psychotherapist, , and works on anger and stress management. (Exhibit "E"). He has completed fifteen weeks of a thirty week conflict resolution course conducted by LifeWorks. Mr. Cozine has become active in church and sings in the choir. (Exhibit "F"). Mr. Cozine's rehabilitative efforts are widespread and genuine precisely because he believes his conduct and its aftermath were so horrendous and contrary to his true character.

CONCLUSION

Mr. Cozine is an intelligent, creative, hardworking individual. He has done good deeds that others have recognized and committed bad acts that have jeopardized the safety of others. (See, "Thank You" letter from and other recommendations, Exhibit G). Like most of us he is far from perfect. Undoubtedly, abuse of drugs and alcohol have at times stunted Mr. Cozine's growth, though he does not blame the assault upon alcohol-he committed the offense. Mr. Cozine, however, truly wants to be a law abiding, contributing member of society. He certainly has the tools to achieve that end. A suspended sentence under such circumstances makes sense and will continue his many rehabilitative efforts.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, the Defendant requests that the Court assess a term of community supervision.

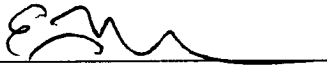

Respectfully submitted,

EXHIBIT A, LETTER OF APOLOGY

Dear _____ and the _____ family,

I write this letter to you in the hope that I may in some small way apologize for what happened.

, I hope with every fiber of my being that you are okay and doing well. I have seen the pictures from that night and they haunt me. I can only hope that you are better and doing well. As far as what happened, I wish that I could recall better what happened, but my memory of that night is a broken collection of pictures that is incomplete. I believe that I was in an alcoholic blackout, and I can tell you that waking up and not knowing exactly what happened and having it explained to me was the worst day of my life. I have vowed to never again let anything like that happen, and I have taken steps to change my life to make sure of this.

I have become sober, I have seen a therapist, I have completed an alcohol and drug treatment program, and now regularly attend Alcoholics Anonymous meetings almost daily and have not had a drink since Nov 25th, 2007.

I know that none of this will change what happened, I only want to express to you my remorse and my sorrow. My only hope is that you are well, and I again want to tell you how sorry I am, and I hope that someday hopefully you will be able to find it in your heart to forgive me.

Sincerely,

Tres

My first Sunday here at St. James' Episcopal Church was the day I met Mr. Tres Cozine. That was the last Sunday in November of 2007.

I have been here every Sunday since, and have rarely not seen Tres in church. He has been an active participant in not only the regular cycle of services here, but also the special occasions celebrated by this parish as well. He is also now singing in one of our choirs, at the 6PM Eucharist, where he has become a valued member.

I am grateful that Tres is part of this community of faith and that he is an active participant in our common life.

Dear Mr. Keys,

It is with gratefulness that I write to you about Trey Cozine, a 7-Eleven employee at the 408 W 15th Street store in Austin, Texas. On August 23, 2005 Mr. Cozine quite possibly saved my daughter's life.

Mr. Cozine knocked on my front door after 9:00 pm, which was somewhat unusual. When I opened the door, I saw Mr. Cozine in his 7-Eleven apron with my four-year-old daughter, who was wearing her pajamas and holding a Slurpee. At first, I was extremely confused because I had tucked my daughter into bed over an hour before.

My daughter had gotten out of her bed, walked downstairs, opened the backdoor and walked to your store. She crossed at least three major streets and walked through an alley to the store. Apparently, she got a cup and lid and climbed onto the counter and poured herself a Slurpee. According to Mr. Cozine, she brought an armload of candy and a Slurpee to the counter. When she had no money to pay he asked where her mother was and she told him, "at home."

Mr. Cozine was thoughtful and caring enough to leave his job and walk her home. It is mind numbing to count the ways that she could have been killed or harmed, and my appreciation to Mr. Cozine for his kindness is unequalled. It is a miracle that she made it to the store safely, but her luck might not have held out for the relatively long walk home alone.

I want you to know you have an exceptional employee in Trey Cozine, and he performed the ultimate act of customer service, which is one of your company's greatest assets. You are fortunate to have Mr. Cozine as an employee. Best wishes to him and the rest of you at the 7-Eleven Corporation.

Sincerely yours,

To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Theodore "Tres" Cozine for nearly four years, since we became neighbors and friends while living at Rio House Apartments in the summer of 2004. Since then I have observed him in a range of circumstances and can confidently say that I know him to be a fundamentally good person, caring of others, and committed to his present sobriety.

In December I invited Tres to share my apartment with my wife and I. In the intervening months I have watched him fully invest himself in his sobriety and work, spending up to a dozen or more hours a day at work and attending regular meetings of AA. In this time he has always paid his rent and bills on schedule, even at significant hardship, by working as much overtime as his employer would allow. Tres also attends church services weekly, and in the recent past has volunteered to chair meetings of his AA home group. Because of the longevity of our friendship and our many frequent and varied conversations in the past months I can attest to his sincere desire to live in a positive manner and be a positive, contributing member of his community.

Sincerely,
